“

Eli is the first thing I've come across that feels like it fits absolutely perfectly into the composition classroom. Talk about a killer app.”

—Mike Edwards, United States Military Academy, West Point

Eli* makes peer review work for you.

With a clear process for students responding to each other's work—and a window for teachers into what's happening, when it happens—Eli helps students both sharpen their skills as peer reviewers and think critically about their own writing. The result? Better writing and better writers.

- Help students translate review to revision.
- Motivate student reviewers.
- See real data about what your students are doing.
- Use a tool built by writing teachers, for writing teachers.
- Get help when you need it.
